

AICTE-Approved Three-Day Universal Human Values–I (UHV-I) Faculty Development Program (21–23 July 2026)

The Institute of Information Technology and Management (IITM), Janakpuri proudly inaugurated the AICTE-approved Three-Day Universal Human Values–I (UHV-I) Faculty Development Program (21–23 July 2026).

The program is designed to empower educators with the principles of universal human values, ethics, holistic development, and value-based education, reaffirming that education should nurture not only skilled professionals but also responsible, compassionate, and value-driven individuals.

Workshop commenced with the inaugural session featuring inspiring addresses by Prof. (Dr.) Rachita Rana, Director- IITM, Prof.(Dr.) Ganesh Kumar Wadhwani, Deputy Director, IITM, Dr. Munsi Yadav (AICTE), and Dr. Vijay Pal Singh (AICTE), followed by an enriching technical session by Dr. B.K. Sharma, Ex Professor & Principal RIET, Jaipur(Rajasthan). The sessions focused on holistic development, self-exploration, happiness, and harmony, encouraging educators to integrate human values into the teaching-learning process.

The successful organization of the program was facilitated under the guidance of the Local Program Coordinators, Dr. Gajendra Kumar Saraswat-IITM and Prof.(Dr.) Gopal Singh Latwal-IITM, whose dedicated efforts contributed significantly to the smooth conduct of the inaugural day.

At IITM Janakpuri, we remain committed to building an education ecosystem that seamlessly blends academic excellence with ethics, empathy, and humanity.
